Circumcision

What is circumcision?
Circumcision involves removing the excess foreskin from the end of the penis.

What tests are needed?
There is no test required. The diagnosis is made by a physical exam.

What to expect at your child’s appointment:
Your child will be seen and evaluated in our Pediatric Surgery clinic by one of our pediatric surgeons or the physician assistant. This visit is for consultation only. Your child will not be circumcised on the day of the clinic visit. We will schedule your child for outpatient surgery. You and your child will arrive at the hospital on the morning of surgery and return home the same day.
