Children often want to sit in the front seat, but even with the advancement of safety technology, the back seat is still the safest place for your child.

All children ages 12 and younger should be properly restrained in a back seat. Allowing your child to sit in the front seat of your vehicle increases the risk of the child being injured or killed in the event of a crash.

WARNING

DEATH OR SERIOUS INJURY CAN OCCUR

- Children 12 and under can be killed by the air bag
- The back seat is the safest place for children
- Never put a rear-facing child seat in the front
- Sit as far back as possible from the air bag
- Always use seat belts and child restraints
