The Bluegrass Care Clinic wants to celebrate the move to its new location by displaying art created by people in our community who have been impacted by HIV and other infectious diseases. The purpose of this call is to encourage patients, their families and friends, and our community members and partners to contribute art that reflects resilience and optimism in the face of such challenging diseases. We hope that the personal touch of our community’s art will create a welcoming, inclusive and healing atmosphere at the new clinic.
