Giving heart patients their lives back.

That’s why we’re here.

Only UK HealthCare offers the most comprehensive heart care in the region. And that’s exactly why patients like Charles Shelton choose us. When the 49-year-old doctor’s condition sent him into biventricular heart failure, UK HealthCare was there, managing his failing heart until a donor heart became available. Charles was so moved by the care he received, he spoke at a heart transplant support group meeting the very day he was released from the hospital.
